

Michigan Tech

Michigan Tech's response to COVID-19

College of Computing

Guy C. Hembroff

Associate Professor, Applied Computing

Director, Health Informatics Graduate Program

Affiliated Associate Professor, Data Science

PhD, Computational Science and Engineering, Michigan Technological University

MPA, Public Administration, Northern Michigan University

BS, Finance and Economics, Michigan Technological University

Contact

hembroff@mtu.edu:

(<mailto:hembroff@mtu.edu>
u)

906-487-3248

Rekhi Hall 105

Biography

Dr. Hembroff is an associate professor in the College of Computing, and director of the Health Informatics graduate program at Michigan Tech. His areas of expertise are network engineering, medical/health informatics, biometric development, intelligent medical devices, data analytics, and cybersecurity.

Research Interests

- Cybersecurity

Teaching Interests

- Cybersecurity

- Biometric development
- Health care information systems security
- Human computer interaction
- Intelligent medical devices
- Medical/health informatics
- Network engineering
- Health care information systems security

Links of Interest

Personal Webpage : (<http://guyhembroff.com/>)

Recent Publications
